

Senate Bill 1079

YOUTH HOUSING BOND FUND ACT OF 2024

Senator Caroline Menjivar (D – San Fernando Valley)

SUMMARY

SB 1079 will combat homelessness and housing instability for California's most vulnerable youth, including foster youth. By prioritizing building housing and supporting capital expenditures for necessary equipment for youth housing, SB 1079 will create a youth housing bond to increase the availability and accessibility of youth housing to help stem the pipeline of youth homelessness to chronic adult homelessness.

PROBLEM

Current law directs the California Interagency Council on Homelessness to establish goals to prevent youth homelessness and improve low-barrier, diverse housing opportunities. Recent statewide investments to sustain and expand housing for persons experiencing homelessness have focused most resources on addressing adult homelessness. Annual homelessness counts consistently find that California has the highest number of homeless youth, with over 68% of the homeless youth being unsheltered.ⁱ

BACKGROUND

Homelessness among some groups of youth is significantly disproportionate – up to 40 percent of homeless youth identify as LGBTQ+. Among racial and ethnic groups, African American youth were especially overrepresented, with an 83% increased risk of having experienced homelessness over youth of other races.ⁱⁱ Further, some data has shown that 50% of the chronically homeless population had their first experience of homelessness when they were under the age of 25.ⁱⁱⁱ In 2023, California counted 10,173 youth experiencing homelessness on their own, and another 2,219 who were parenting their own children.^{iv}

The purpose of extended foster care, which supports the transition to independence for youth in foster care aged 18-21, is to prevent homelessness among youth as they enter early adulthood. However, without sufficient transitional housing, the vision of extended foster care is falling flat. Failure to support our transition aged youth experiencing homelessness results in increased chronic homelessness, disconnection as adults, negative health impacts, and increased risk of mental health and addiction issues.

California voters have previously approved two statewide bonds to create housing for youth in the Youth Center and Youth Shelter Bond Act of 1988 and Proposition 1C of 2006. However, the last statewide housing bond in 2018 included no targeted resources for youth.

SOLUTION

SB 1079 will address the ongoing need to develop housing to support current and former foster youth along with youth experiencing or at risk of homelessness. SB 1079 will increase housing stability and enhance the impact of California's investments in housing for youth by:

- ✓ Creating a dedicated funding source, the 2024 Youth Housing Bond Fund, to combat youth homelessness.
- ✓ Allowing both public agencies and community-based organizations with specific youth expertise to apply for the youth bond funds.
